A YOUNG
DESPERADO*Owen Holt, Jr., Shoots and Wounds Four Chinamen.

Four Chinese washermen of Iwilei were wounded yesterday morning by Owen Holt, Jr., who used a single-barreled magazine shot gun with almost deadly effect on one. Holt claims he was looking for mynah birds and for that reason crept close to a wash house to lay in wait for prey. Lee Nun, a Chinese employee in one of the wash houses, left a house and went toward a creek spanned by a bridge. As he stepped upon this structure the report of the gun in Holt's hands rang out and he fell wounded, bird shot having entered his lower limbs. Whether Holt shot at the Chinamen deliberately or at a mynah is an open question, Holt claiming the wounds were the result of an accidental discharge.

Lee Nun raised a cry and howled with pain, and tried to get back to the wash house. Two or three Chinamen saw his plight and taking in the situation at a glance gave chase to young Holt, who ran down the Iwilei road. Noticing that his pursuers were gaining on him, Holt deliberately faced about, leveled the gun at the Chinamen and pulled the trigger. Lee Sin and Lee Sun, who were in the lead received a quantity of shot and they dropped out of the pursuit. Other Chinamen reinforced the crowd behind Holt who again started to run like a deer. Chung Wui out distanced his companions and Holt seeing that he would be overtaken again turned and fired at Chung, a shot entering his ear and tearing away a small portion of it.

Maddened by the wounding of their countrymen the remaining Chinamen sped on and finally overtook Holt and took him prisoner. At this time Holt was unexpectedly aided by two natives, Kawelu and Kaaka, who compelled the Chinese to liberate Holt, and all three ran off.

The Chinese washermen at once reported the circumstances to the police and Detective David Kaapa was detailed to find Holt. The latter's father was found and he was urged to assist in locating the young terror. The boy was found and taken to the Police Station, together with the two natives. Kawelu is charged with assault and battery and Holt is charged with assault with a deadly weapon. Kaaka is also charged with assault and battery.

Holt was released on $250 bonds.

THE LANAI DISPUTE.

extreme cruelty. She relates in her petition that they were married in Honolulu on October 26, 1898, and that subsequent to the marriage Jackson has treated her with extreme cruelty on many different occasions. In the month of February, 1899, in the presence of Mrs. Mary Voeller, she alleges that her husband struck and beat her, causing injury and discoloration to her eye and using violent and indecent language, and in the month of April he choked her. In July, 1901, at the Xenoparis Hotel, she alleges that he cruelly beat her, locked her in a room and attempted to cut her throat with scissors. In September, 1902, he attempted to strike and abuse her in the presence of Mrs. Swinton and her mother, and on the night of September 26 at 10 o'clock in the night he called the plaintiff out from the house, produced a loaded revolver and intimidated her causing her fear and suffering of mind.

Amy Josephine French has also asked for a divorce from Towneley Thordyke French on the ground of extreme cruelty. She states they were married on October 28, 1898, and lived together until July 27, 1900, when she alleges French deserted her. She says that there are two children living, Arthur Henry French, born Sept. 18, 1899, and Mabel Louise French, born October 26, 1900. She has been forced to support herself by her own efforts. As to the charges preferred, she relates that on September 1, 1898, and on July 27, 1900, her husband treated her with extreme cruelty. He struck and kicked her, and by threats of violence, bodily harm and even death, put her in great fear of her life and her health became impaired and she was compelled to leave him for the sake of her health and safety. On May 1, 1898, the defendant in great anger shook his fist in her face and threatened to shoot her. On Sept. 1, 1898, he dragged her to the floor and while she was prone on the floor he cruelly beat and brutally kicked her. On February 19, 1899, he threatened to shoot and kill her and assaulted her by pointing a loaded revolver at her within six inches of her head. He has at all times since her marriage nagged at, persecuted and by all manner of means badgered and annoyed her, making life unsupportable with him.

Mrs. Emily Williams has filed suit for divorce against E. C. Williams, alleging desertion and intemperance as her grounds. She states they were married in 1894 and that the defendant left her in 1899. She says he is a man of shiftless and indolent habits and although capable of earning does not do so. She states that he has become addicted to the use of intoxicating liquors and is not capable of carrying on a business.

British Revenue.

LONDON, Oct. 1.—The newspapers this morning congratulate Charles Thomson Ritchie, Chancellor of the Exchequer, upon the prospect of a reduction of taxation in 1903. Sir Michael Hicks-Beach, the former chancellor, in his last budget estimated that the revenue for the current year would show an increase of $45,000,000. A treasury statement just issued shows that the revenue for the first half of the year has given an increase of $36,500,000.
